Did you know? Kenya is home to nearly half a million Somali refugees... <http://www.designab.com/kenya/postcards/25/postcards-from-kenya-...>

- Kenya's Dadaab refugee camp – the world's largest – houses over 400,000 refugees who have fled instability and famine in Somalia.
- In July 2011, the Kenyan government announced that it would open a fourth settlement within the Dadaab camp to cope with the influx of refugees. Recent estimates place refugee arrivals between 4,000 and 5,000 people every week.
- To help fight the famine plaguing Somalia and deal with the growing refugee crisis, Kenyan Prime Minister Raila Odinga has proposed setting up feeding programs on the Kenya-Somalia border.
